

Research Question

Assignment: Develop a research question for your proposed study.

Process: Based on your review of the literature, focus in on a question you wish to address in your proposal. Think carefully about the wording of the question, and make sure that you can use one of the methods discussed by Neuman to address your question. Remember to orient the question so that you can develop an explanation.

Submit: A sheet of paper with your research question. Each group should submit one paper.

Due: Oct. 12, 2004
